

All Souls offers weekly interdenominational Rosary

Historic All Souls Church, located at 61 Main St., Stony Brook, is open for prayer and reflection every day. The church recently added a weekly interdenominational Rosary to its existing list of community outreach programs (i.e., monthly poetry readings, concerts, Gregorian Chant, Native American Drumming, and Tuesday interdenominational Morning Prayer).

Although many people think of the Rosary as something only Roman Catholics do, Anglicans, Episcopalians, Native Americans, Hindus, Muslims and Orthodox Christians also pray their own versions of the Rosary.

The Interdenominational Rosary will be offered every Wednesday at 12 p.m. in the historic Stanford White-designed chapel. The group recitation of the Rosary will take less than 30 minutes and will include prayers drawn from the Roman Catholic, Anglican, Episcopal and Orthodox traditions as well as

All Souls Church in Stony Brook recently began offering a weekly interdenominational Rosary every Wednesday.

Photo by Susan Kerr

Bible readings related to the four mysteries of the Marian Rosary: The Joyful Mysteries, The Sorrowful Mysteries, The Glorious Mysteries and The Luminous Mysteries.

If visitors do not have a Marian Rosary, All Souls will give one as a thank you for joining fellow Christians in prayer.

For more information, call 631-655-7798.